

CAMBRIDGESHIRE ACRE GENERAL PRIVACY NOTICE

Your personal data – what is it?

'Personal data' is any information about a living individual which allows them to be identified from that data (for example a name, photographs, videos, email address, or address). How we use sensitive personal data

- We may process sensitive personal data, for example information about your physical or mental health or condition and/or your racial or ethnic origin or similar information, in order to comply with legal requirements and obligations to third parties.

- We may process special categories of personal data in the following circumstances:
 - In limited circumstances, with your explicit written consent. If this applies, we will provide you with full details of the personal data that we would like and the reason we need it, so that you can carefully consider whether you wish to consent.

What is the legal basis for processing your personal data?

Cambridgeshire ACRE is a not-for-profit organisation with charitable objectives around working with partners, communities and individuals to develop Cambridgeshire and Peterborough as a vibrant place to live, work and visit.

We use your personal data for some or all of the following purposes:

- To confirm your identity to provide some services;

- To contact you by post, email, telephone or using social media (e.g. Facebook, Twitter);
- To help us to build up a picture of how we are performing;
- To promote the interests of Cambridgeshire ACRE;

Most of your personal data is processed in compliance with the Legitimate Interests condition. This says that if we have a good reason to process your personal data then we may do so without your explicit consent so long as there is no unwarranted impact on you. Examples of this would be processing data for those involved in local councils or village halls where Cambridgeshire ACRE has a legitimate interest in making you aware of the services we provide to such bodies. Where we rely on the Legitimate Interests condition, we conduct balancing tests so we can be confident that our processing of your information has no detrimental impact on you. You have the right to object to us relying on this condition for processing your data. If you object then we will immediately stop processing your data on this basis.

Sometimes we may need to process your personal data for the performance of a contract with you, or to take steps to enter into a contract. Examples of this would be processing your data in relation to membership of Cambridgeshire ACRE, or in relation to contracts or agreements relating to particular projects, services or pieces of consultancy work.

Sometimes the use of your personal data requires your consent. We will first obtain your consent to that use.

We will always take into account your interests and rights. This Privacy Notice sets out your rights and Cambridgeshire ACRE's obligations to you.

Sharing your personal data

This section provides information about the third parties with whom Cambridgeshire ACRE may share your personal data. These third parties have an obligation to put in place appropriate security measures and will be responsible to you directly for the manner in which they process and protect your personal data. We may need to share your data with the following (but only where necessary):

- Local authorities, statutory agencies or not-for-profit bodies with whom we are carrying out joint work, e.g. in relation to events for the community.
- Contractors working on our behalf, e.g. if we should need to ask a commercial provider to distribute mailings on our behalf;

How long do we keep your personal data?

We will keep some records permanently if we are legally required to do so. We may keep some other records for an extended period of time. For example, it is currently best practice to keep financial records for a minimum period of 6 years, from the end of the last financial year they relate to, to support HMRC audits or provide tax information. We may have legal obligations to retain some data in connection with our projects/services for an extended period of time. In general, we will endeavour to keep data only for as long as we need it. This means that we will delete it when it is no longer needed.
